

We are who we are

Prior Knowledge

The presentation work builds on Unit 1.2: We are TV chefs and Unit 3.3: We are presenters.

The small research element builds on Units 2.4: We are safe researchers.

Key Vocabulary:

comments		a tool in word processors (and other software) to allow one user to provide feedback and suggestions on part of a document	outline		overview of a document, showing the structure of headings and subheadings without body text
creative commons		copyright licensing scheme in which content can be re-used without additional permission, subject to certain specified conditions	personal information		information relating to an identified or identifiable individual
data centre		warehouse of computer storage and processing connected to the internet

Key learning: How can I refine and improve a presentation?

 Session 1: Adding comments to a presentation	How can I share information with my peers?	 Session 4: Making a presentation	What kind of tools I can use to create and polish a presentation quickly?
--	--	--	---

Coding and Computers At first it can look hard but when you look at the problems properly and think about them they can be quite sensible to fix. Computers are fun to play with and they are all around us so it's good to practise skills on them and to get good at using them.  Session 2: Adding video into a presentation	What is the appropriate audience for a presentation?	 Session 5: Recording audio in Audacity	How can I use video and constructive feedback to improve my presentation?
 Session 3: Inserting video into a presentation	How can I organise my presentation, so it is interesting?	 Session 6: Discussing sharing information online	How might the information I wish to share and people I trust change over time?

Key Applications (apps)

Google search engine

PowerPoint

Next Steps

You will consider privacy and data implications further in Unit 3.6: We are opinion pollsters, Unit 4.4: We are bloggers and Unit 6.4: We are connected. You will do further work in collaborative text editing in Unit 3.5: We are co-authors, Unit 5.4: We are web developers and Unit 6.3: We are publishers.